Homework from lesson on 22nd Jan

January 21st, 2009 by Mr Bigg

Firstly, everyone needs to find out a little bit about Apartheid. Basically it was a time in South Africa between 1948 and 1990 during which there was a separation of white people from those of other races. Many non-white people were badly oppressed during this time. Look here for some information.

Your homework is to find out a bit about 3 people who fought against Apartheid. You were divided into three groups. Each group needs to do some research.

Each of the below links are Wikipedia articles to get you started. I hope you'll Google these people yourselves to find out a bit more than the basics. I'm particularly interested in whether religious ideas made a difference to what they did.

- » Group 1: Nelson Mandela. Look here to start with.
- » Group 2: Desmond Tutu. Go here.

The Windrush - 1948

How can we change someone's mind about racism?

Copy the diagram into your book and write some words in the thought bubble describing the way a racist might think about people of a different colour. Then, draw arrows outside of the bubble and suggest what you might do to change that attitude.
